Mokulele Airlines Announces New Jet Service Between Honolulu and Hilo, Offers Introductory Fare of Only $35***

Honolulu, HI - Hawai'i-based Mokulele Airlines is pleased to announce that it will be adding a fourth destination to its growing inter-island jet service with the launch of service between Honolulu and Hilo. The airline will bring the spacious, two-class service of its 70-seat Embraer 170 jets to the route beginning May 1, 2009.

Although service begins in May, passengers can start making their travel plans today, as the new flights are now available for sale at www.mokuleleairlines.com or by calling 808.426.7070. Even better, Mokulele is offering a special introductory fare of only $35* to celebrate the new route.

“The inauguration of Mokulele jet service to Hilo will allow even more customers to be introduced to the most comfortable air service in the islands,” said Scott Durgin, interim president and CEO of Mokulele Airlines. “I know they will enjoy the all-leather seating, extra overhead bin space and the friendly service the employees of Mokulele take pride in offering on every flight.

Following is the schedule of the new jet service. All flights are nonstop, will operate daily, and be operated by Republic Airways subsidiary Shuttle America using Embraer 170 aircraft.

Mokulele also operates jet service between Honolulu and Kahului, Kailua-Kona and Lihu'e.

Mokulele Airlines was founded in 1998 as Mokulele Flight Service Inc. The airline operates scheduled U.S. carrier service both independently and through participation in a code-share agreement. It also offers tour flights as well as inter-island cargo service. Mokulele Airlines currently has a fleet of seven 208B Cessna Grand Caravans and operates 56 daily departures to seven cities in Hawai'i. Mokulele Airlines markets and sells tickets directly to passengers via its website www.mokuleleairlines.com and through its Honolulu reservations center at 808-426-7070.
